

Fashion Awareness Direct

Creating fashion futures

CAMDEN Gazette

FACES IN THE NEWS

■ LEFT: Aspiring fashion designer Rebecca Glyn-Blanco, a student at Camden School for Girls, in Sandall Road, Kentish Town, works on her latest creation for a exhibition inspired by the V&A Museum's new Renaissance and Medieval galleries. Sixteen to 18-year-old art and design students from London and Manchester joined forces for the Fashion Futures 2 exhibition, developed by creative charity F.A.D.