

Supporting and promoting the art of fashion, the culture of fashion, the future of fashion

Sugar Magazine - November 2005

Sugar
INSPIRATIONAL GIRLS
SHADERS & TONERS

INSPIRATIONAL

GIRLS

2006

Drum roll, please... It's the Sugar/Wella Shaders & Toners Inspirational Girls of 2006. As voted by YOU!

THE DESIGNER

ANNIE SKIPPER
AGE: 17
FROM: London
NOMINATED FOR: Being the fashionista to watch!

Annie won a fashion comp with her design for the ultimate little black dress and now her frock is being sold at Asda stores all over the country.

"I was so overwhelmed, I actually started crying during my acceptance speech," Annie recalls. "They announced it at the catwalk show for the finalists. I had no idea – I was gobsmacked!"

ON BEING AN INSPIRATIONAL GIRL:
"It's amazing! I feel so privileged as there's so many awe-inspiring girls here. I'm shocked people see me as an inspiration."

THE ROLE MODEL

SARAH CHILDS AGE: 15 FROM: Essex NOMINATED FOR: Beating the school bullies Sarah suffered from alopecia for two years, which not only saw her lose her hair, but also her self-confidence. She dealt with the cruel remarks from bullies by staying strong and turning to her close mates.	"It was upsetting. I'd spend ages trying to cover up my bald patches, then someone would say something completely insensitive about it," she says. "But my friends were really supportive." ON BEING AN INSPIRATIONAL GIRL: "It was a total surprise – I didn't even know I'd been nominated for an award – but a great one!"
---	--