LEWISHAM: Fashion students to showcase designs at London Fashion Week

10:29am Thursday 13th May 2010

THREE students will see their designs on the catwalk at London Fashion Week.

Lewisham College students Naomi Dorton, 18, David Short and Susannah Phillips, both 17, are finalists in the Fashion Awareness Direct Junior Awards (FAD).

They will now take part in a week long summer school at The University of East London to re-create their final designs.

The Fashion BTEC students will join 23 other young people from London and Manchester to showcase their designs at the final event in September.

The winner will receive a work placement in the industry and will be announced on the night.

FAD is a charity supporting young people to bridge the gap between education and the fashion industry through competitions and workshops.

David Short, 17, is a finalist in the Fashion Awareness Direct Junior Awards
