

Supporting and promoting the art of fashion, the culture of fashion, the future of fashion

this is nottingham.co.uk

At the heart of all things local

- Home
- News
- Sport
- Entertainment
- Blogs
- A Chance for Life
- Business
- Campaigns
- Personal Finance
- Weather
- Have Your Say
- Competitions
- Evening Post
- Nottinghamshire Today
- Local Information
- Contact Us
- Reader Travel Offers
- Vote

powered by
YAHOO! SEARCH

back to list

THREE THROUGH TO FASHION FINAL
Be the first reader to comment on this story

09:00 - 17 March 2008

Three fashion students from Nottingham Trent University have reached the final of a national competition.

Bonnie Yau, Terri Dewhurst and Alicia Stone are through to the last round of Fashion Awareness Direct.

Alicia said: "It's a really exciting opportunity for the three of us. We've all worked really hard towards this."

This year's winner - who will scoop £2,000 and a prestigious fashion industry work placement - will be announced on April 22.

Gilly Staples, senior lecturer in fashion at the university, said: "To have three of our students shortlisted for the final is a fantastic achievement."

comment on this story

print this story

Email this story to a friend