

Fashion Awareness Direct

Creating fashion futures

WE

020 8330 9531 June 4, 2009

The future of fashion

Talented Wandsworth students have made it to the finals of a fashion competition.

Jacqueline Boakye and Lee-Ann Willoughby, both aged 17, were announced as finalists in this year's Fashion Futures 2 (FF2) project, during a special exhibition held at east London arts centre Rich Mix on May 14.

Jacqueline and Lee-Ann, both students at St Francis Xavier sixth form in Clapham, beat hopefuls from 29 different schools and colleges in Salford and London.

They were among 23 finalists of the competition, organised by Fashion Awareness Direct (Fad). They will now take part in an intensive summer school at arts college Central Saint Martins, where they will have just five days to make their garments for the 2009 Fad junior awards and cat-walk show.

The 2009 Fad summer school will take place at Central Saint Martins from July 13 to July 17.

Lee-Ann Willoughby

Jacqueline Boakye